1. Life Annuity Tax Deduction

The government has the policy to support an income earner to enter into a life insurance in the type of life annuity to increase a saving option. Savings lay a foundation for a security upon retirement. The Ministerial Regulation is enacted to offer individual taxpayers a life annuity tax deduction. On the top of a regular life insurance deduction of up to Baht 100,000 per year, the Ministerial Regulation offers an additional deduction of up to Baht 200,000 for the payment of a life annuity premium under the following conditions:

1. The amount claimed for this deduction must not exceed 15% of taxpayer's annual assessable income.
2. The sum of the life annuity premium and any contributed amount to the Pension Fund, or any contributed amount to the government pension fund, or any contributed amount to the welfare fund under the private school law and/or any investment in the retirement mutual fund (RMF) must not exceed Baht 500,000 in any calendar year.
3. In the event that a taxpayer does not fully claim a regular life insurance deduction up to the maximum of Baht 100,000, any remaining amount or the entire amount of Baht 100,000 (if a regular life insurance deduction is not claimed at all) can be claimed as a life annuity deduction. This means if a taxpayer does not purchase any regular life insurance at all, the taxpayer can pay for a life annuity premium and claim the deduction up to Baht 300,000 in total per year (Baht 200,000 for a life annuity deduction and Baht 100,000 for a regular life insurance deduction).

This life annuity deduction is applicable for any payment of a life annuity premium from 2010 and thereafter.

2. Tax Exemptions for Reductions in Greenhouse Gases Emission

The government has the policy to support the greenhouse gases emission reduction project in the country by offering a tax incentive measure to encourage the private sector to run the project in order to improve the quality of nation's environment, help the state obtain the data pertaining to the voluntary greenhouse gases emission reduction of the private sector and support the sale of carbon credits, which generate the income for the country. Therefore, the government introduces the tax exemption for corporate taxpayers that run the greenhouse gases emission reduction project for the portion that arises from the sale of carbon credits, either in Thailand or overseas, for three years.

In order to qualify for the tax exemption, tax law imposes some deadline. The clean development mechanisms project, which sells carbon credits in the type of Certified Emission Reductions (CERs), must be certified by the Greenhouse Gases Management Organization by 2012. The greenhouse gases emission reduction project, which sells carbon credits in the type of Voluntary Emission Reductions (VERs) must be registered with the Greenhouse Gases Management Organization by 2012.

BREACH OF CONTRACT/MISREPRESENTATION

In the business world, another area of disputes is breach of contract, misrepresentation and wrongful inducement. Our firm can advise and represent clients on these issues. The non-default party may request the court to impose the injunction on the default party, requiring the default party to do or refrain from doing certain things.

BANKRUPTCY & BUSINESS REORGANIZATION

Whenever the court has order the debtor to be under an absolute receivership or a business reorganization, the creditor may ask for repayment of his debt only by complying with the procedure prescribed in the bankruptcy law even though the creditor may be a judgment creditor, or a creditor who has filed a civil action which is, however, still under trial.

The creditor must take an action within the deadline otherwise the claim for repayment of debt will be invalidated by the bankruptcy law. Once any counterparty is on the verge of bankruptcy, the creditor is recommended to have an eye on debtor's possible financial demise.

We can assist the creditor file the claim for repayment of debt to preserve creditor's right.
